Note: The Rockies opened their 1999 season in Monterrey, Mexico, with an 8-2 victory over the San Diego Padres. Although it was a neutral site, it counted as a road game in the standings. Therefore, the Rockies' true franchise road record in the state of California and at Qualcomm Stadium is one win fewer than what their franchise road record would be if their record against all California-based teams were cumulated.

UBALDO'S NO-NO

On April 17, 2010 at Turner Field, Ubaldo Jiménez pitched the first no-hitter in Rockies history.

- Jiménez's line: 9.0 IP, 0 H, 0 ER, 6 BB, 7 SO, 31 batters faced.
- Jiménez threw the first no-hitter in Colorado's 2,703rd game.
- Entering the game, four existing teams in MLB had not thrown a no-hitter: Colorado (est. 1993), Tampa Bay (est. 1998), San Diego (est. 1969) and New York-NL (est. 1962).
- Prior to this no-hitter, the deepest a Colorado pitcher had gone into a potential no-hitter was Jason Jennings, who went 6.2 innings without giving up a hit on Aug. 1, 2002 at Pittsburgh.
- Jiménez threw a career-high 128 pitches, one more than his previous high (127 pitches, June 12, 2009 vs. Seattle); he threw 72 strikes and his fastball averaged 96.8 mph.
- Jiménez faced 31 consecutive batters without allowing a hit.
- When he reached 83 pitches, Jiménez had thrown 42 balls and 41 strikes, but he did not walk any batters after the fifth inning.
- Jiménez was the fourth Dominican player to throw a no-hitter—entering the 2021 season, seven Dominican-born players have thrown no-hitters, the most of any nationality other than from the U.S.A.

Neifi Perez
July 25, 1998 vs. St. Louis Cardinals (W, 5-2) - Perez doubled, tripled, singled and then homered on a 0-1 pitch in the seventh inning.

Todd Helton
June 19, 1999 vs. Florida Marlins (W, 10-2) - Helton cycled in only four trips to the plate; he doubled, singled, homered and tripled off the right-field wall in the seventh.

Mike Lansing

GAME 163, 2007

On Oct. 1, 2007, the Rockies vs. San Diego Padres matchup at Coors Field marked the seventh one-game playoff in Major League history. In the tiebreaker, Colorado took its first lead of the game into the sixth inning, battling back from a 5-3 deficit heading into the third inning. With the Rockies leading 6-5 with two outs in the eighth inning, Matt Holliday's miscue in left field allowed the Padres to score the tying run, pushing the game into extra innings. It stayed knotted at six until San Diego broke the tie with a Scott Hairston two-run home run off Jorge Julio in the 13th inning. With an 8-6 lead, the Padres called on Trevor Hoffman to try and seal a victory for San Diego. With their backs against the wall and the Rockies' season on the line, Kazuo Matsui led off the bottom half of the frame with a double and then scored on Troy Tulowitzki's double to bring the Rockies within a run. Holliday followed with a first-pitch triple, scoring Tulowitzki to tie the game at eight. The Padres chose to intentionally walk Todd Helton in order to face Jamey Carroll with Holliday and the winning run on third. Carroll hit the first pitch he saw from Hoffman to right field, where Brian Giles caught the ball and threw home to try and cut down Holliday. Holliday tagged from third and, diving head first into home plate, decisively beat Giles' throw to win the game, 9-8 in 13 innings, sending them to the postseason.

HUMIDOR

The humidor was implemented at Coors Field in 2002 per MLB's approval and it remains under MLB's management/oversight. The humidor is a temperature and humidity-controlled environment with settings that mirror the distribution warehouse in the Midwest from which the baseballs are shipped to all 30 teams. The humidor keeps the baseballs within MLB specifications for weight and measurement. Chain of custody procedures for the baseballs are maintained by the MLB Authenticator: The MLB Authenticator meets the Umpire's Room Attendant at the humidor, watches him put the baseballs in the ball bag, escorts the attendant with the balls to the Umpires Room and then to the dugout; the Authenticator is positioned in the dugout during the game next to the ball bag.

LOW-RUN GAMES AT COORS FIELD

After no 1-0 games over the park's first 10 years, there have now been 11 1-0 contests at Coors Field since 2005. The first came on July 9, 2005, when the Rockies beat the Padres 1-0. It happened in the 847th regular season game in the facility's history; according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the 846 total contests without a 1-0 game is the longest span of any park in Major League history. The previous record was 635 games, held by the Philadelphia Athletics of the American Association from 1882 to 1891. On Sept. 14, 2008 vs. Los Angeles, the Rockies defeated the Dodgers 1-0 in 10 innings; this game was scoreless through nine innings—a first in Coors Field history. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, that game was the first game ever played at either Mile High Stadium or Coors Field that was scoreless at the end of the ninth inning (previously at Coors Field: 0-0 after eight innings on June 11 vs. San Francisco). The Rockies played 1,257 previous games in Colorado in their history, the longest streak of home games without a 0-0 score through nine innings for any team since the Athletics played 1,615 straight home games in which at least one team scored before extra frames; the A's streak lasted more than 20 years (June 22, 1947 through Sept. 3, 1967), spanning the club's relocation from Philadelphia to Kansas City. Coincidentally, the Rockies lost 1-0 to the Texas Rangers in the inaugural game at Globe Life Field on July 24, 2020.

History of Baseball in Denver

Although Major League Baseball did not arrive until 1993, professional baseball in the Rocky Mountain Region can be traced back to 1886 with the advent of the Western League. The Denver Bears were crowned the first league champions and baseball in the Mile High City would go on to become an off-and-on occurrence over the next 60 years, with the game becoming a permanent fixture in 1948.

Built in 1948, Mile High Stadium was known as Bears Stadium until 1969. Denver finally became a Triple-A city in 1955, when the American League's Philadelphia A's moved to Kansas City, thus allowing the Bears' owners, the Howsam family, the opportunity to purchase the then-homeless New York Yankees' Minor League affiliate for $90,000. The Yankees tabbed an untried Ralph Houk to manage the Triple-A club and were led by the likes of Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Ralph Terry. The first Triple-A champions in Denver history were the 1960 Bears, piloted by Charlie Metro.

Mile High Stadium on Opening Day, April 9, 1993

When the Broncos became a charter member of the American Football League in 1959, the south stands (8,100 seats) and portable east stands (9,616 seats) were added to give a capacity of 34,657 for football. The Broncos began play in 1960.

From 1963-68, the Bears were a member of the Pacific Coast League. The 1968 entry was the affiliate of the Minnesota Twins, managed by the fiery Billy Martin and led by Graig Nettles and Bob Oliver.

After Denver voters turned down a stadium bond issue to build an all-purpose metropolitan stadium in 1967, a non-profit group began a fund-raising drive with the goal of purchasing the stadium for the city. In February 1968, the group bought the stadium from Rocky Mountain Empire Sports for $1.8 million and presented it to the city. A 16,000-seat upper deck was immediately constructed over the west stands, raising the capacity to over 50,000. In December 1968, the stadium was renamed Denver Mile High Stadium. Further expansion of Mile High began in 1975 and was completed in 1977. Voters passed a $25 million bond issue in 1974 to expand the stadium from its capacity of 51,706 to 75,100. The construction of 60 penthouse suites atop the west stands brought the stadium to its final capacity of 76,098 in 1986.

The Bears moved to the American Association in 1969, which would stand as the home of all of the remaining Denver franchises until 1992. From 1970-83, the Bears established themselves as a championship franchise, winning five league crowns and three division titles. Graced by future big league stars such as Tim Wallach and Tim Raines, the Bears drew record crowds night after night, including a 1982 fireworks night crowd of 65,666, which established a Minor League record.

Under new ownership, the Zephyrs came to Denver in 1985, as an affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds. The likes of Eric Davis, Paul O'Neill and Barry Larkin displayed their talents in Denver before moving on to prominent Major League careers.

The Z's joined the Milwaukee Brewers system in 1987 and remained a Brewers affiliate until 1992. One of the most memorable moments in the Zephyrs' tenure at Mile High was a 582' home run by Joey Meyer into the upper deck of the east stands. One seat in the all-blue section was painted orange to signify the landing location of Meyer's home run. John Jaha later sent one near Meyer's homer, just a few feet to the left. Gary Sheffield and Greg Vaughn were some of the other fan favorites of the later Zephyr clubs.

When Major League owners unanimously approved Denver and South Florida as baseball's two newest franchises on July 5, 1991, not only did that date mark the conception of the Rockies but also the end of over 100 years of Minor League baseball in Denver.

A Major League record crowd of 80,227 packed Mile High for the first home game in Rockies franchise history, April 9, 1993 vs. Montreal. Eric Young Sr. hit a home run to lead off the bottom of the first inning as the Rockies cruised to an 11-4 victory, signifying the beginning of big league baseball in the Rocky Mountain region.

After drawing 4,483,350 fans in the 1993 inaugural season, the Rockies were on pace to shatter that mark in 1994, averaging 58,598 through 56 home dates, which would have put the season ending mark at 4,687,840, if it were not for the strike that ended the 1994 season in August. In those first two seasons at Mile High, the Rockies had 52 occasions when better than 60,000 paid to watch baseball; 21 times the crowd eclipsed 70,000.

The Rockies moved into Coors Field in 1995 after shattering nearly every attendance mark in the books. In 135 dates at Mile High, the Rockies drew 7,701,861 fans, an average of 57,051 per game.

Demolition of Mile High was completed in March 2002. On Aug. 29, 2006, the Rockies and the Rocky Mountain Chapter of SABR unveiled a plaque commemorating Bears/ Mile High Stadium, and a home plate made of steel was placed on the exact location of home plate at Mile High, which is currently in a parking lot adjacent to the Broncos' current home stadium.

LARRY WALKER #33

2020 BASEBALL HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE

BORN DECEMBER 1, 1966 IN MAPLE RIDGE, BC, CANADA | BATS/THROWS: L/R

LARRY WALKER
NATIONAL BASEBALL HALL OF FAME
CLASS OF 2020

"With thanks and appreciation to the Baseball Writers Association of America, it is time to reveal the results of the 2020 election.

"Tonight we are pleased to announce the addition of two new members to the Baseball Hall of Fame fraternity. Our first electee was a five-tool player respected for his instincts in all phases of the game. Today, Larry Walker becomes the first position player and second Canadian-born member of the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Throughout a distinguished 17-year career, the pride of Maple Ridge, Canada, recorded a .313 batting average, .400 on-base mark and a .565 slugging percentage. Larry was a product of the talented Montreal Expos player development system. For a decade he excelled with the Colorado Rockies, receiving National League Most Valuable Player votes in six of his seasons in Denver. Larry finished with St. Louis, his veteran influence helping the Cardinals to a pair of postseason appearances and a World Series berth in 2004. One of the premier defensive right fielders of his time, Larry finished with 154 outfield assists and was a seven-time Gold Glove recipient. From 1997 through 2001, he recorded four seasons with a batting average of .350 or higher. The National League MVP in 1997, Larry also collected three batting titles, five All-Star selections and three Silver Slugger awards.

"Larry, we look forward to seeing you in Cooperstown."

- Tim Mead, President, National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum, January 21, 2020

Larry Walker became the first player in Rockies history to be elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame after receiving 76.6 percent of the vote in his 10th and final year on the BBWAA ballot. He is the seventh player in the modern voting era (since 1966) to be elected in his final year of eligibility, and the third player over the past four years to be elected in his 10th and final year on the ballot, joining Tim Raines (2017) and Edgar Martinez (2019).

After receiving 54.6 percent of the vote in 2019, Walker's 22.0-percent jump to 76.6 percent was the largest year-to-year percentage increase to earn election to the Hall of Fame in the modern voting era.

Born on Dec. 1, 1966, in Maple Ridge, B.C., Canada, Walker played parts of 17 Major League seasons from 1989-2005, including parts of 10 seasons with the Rockies (1995-2004). In his career, he batted .313 (2,160-for-6,907) with 1,355 runs, 471 doubles, 62 triples, 383 home runs, 1,311 RBI, 230 stolen bases and 913 walks. As a Rockie, Walker batted .334 (1,361-for-4,076) with 297 doubles, 44 triples, 258 home runs, 848 RBI, 126 stolen bases and 584 walks. He ranks first in Rockies history in batting average, on-base percentage (.426) and slugging percentage (.618). He ranks second, behind Todd Helton, in runs, hits, doubles, home runs and RBI.

In 1997, Walker became the only player in Rockies history to win the National League Most Valuable Player Award, after leading the Major Leagues with a .720 slugging percentage, a 1.172 OPS and 409 total bases. His 49 home runs that season led the National League, and remain tied with Todd Helton's 2001 total for the most single-season home runs in Rockies franchise history.

Walker was named a National League All-Star five times (1992, 1997-99, 2001) and earned seven Gold Gloves in right field (1992-93, 1997-99, 2001-02), in addition to his three Silver Sluggers (1992, 1997, 1999). Additionally, he was a three-time NL Batting Champion (1998-99, 2001) as a member of the Rockies.

Prior to signing with Colorado before the 1995 season, Walker played parts of six seasons with the Montreal Expos (1989-94) and batted .281 (666-for-2,366) with 368 runs, 147 doubles, 16 triples, 99 home runs, 384 RBI across 674 games. After his 10 years with the Rockies, he concluded his Major League career with parts of two seasons for the St. Louis Cardinals (2004-05), where he batted .286 (133-for-465) with 95 runs, 27 doubles, two triples, 26 home runs, 79 RBI, six stolen bases and 65 walks across 144 games.

ROCKIES ON WALKER

"I know I speak for the whole Rocky Mountain Region in congratulating Larry for his election into the Hall of Fame. Larry blessed our region for 10 seasons and we feel extremely fortunate to be a part of his incredible career. Congrats, Larry." - Rockies Owner/Chairman & CEO Dick Monfort

"Larry Walker was, hands down, the best athlete I ever played with. He could have been a Hall of Famer in any sport he played. I'm glad I had a chance to play with and learn from one of the best to ever play the game." - Former Rockies teammate Todd Helton

"Larry is a pioneer and a role model for all baseball players from Canada. He continues to give back to the sport by coaching the national teams. His induction is a very big deal for those of us around the game north of the border and is a great way to start off the new wave of talent that is on its way to the big leagues." - Former Rockies pitcher Jeff Francis

"It is a proud, proud day for Larry Walker and his family. And the entire Rockies organization couldn't be happier for him as well. Not only was Larry one of the most talented players to ever wear a Rockies jersey, he was one of the elite all-around players of his generation. With his true five-tool talent and remarkable athleticism, Larry often made the game look easy. Now he will rightly take his place in the Hall as one of the very best outfielders that baseball has ever had, which is a fitting cap on his great career." - Rockies General Manager Jeff Bridich

2007: 21 WINS IN 22 GAMES

The 2007 season was a historical one for the Colorado Rockies, as the team won its first National League Championship and advanced to the World Series for the first time in franchise history.

The Rockies captivated fans throughout baseball with an unprecedented run at the end of the season, winning 14 of their final 15 regular season games (including a one-game playoff for the Wild Card), sweeping the National League Division Series vs. the Phillies and the Championship Series vs. the Diamondbacks. All told, the club won 21 of 22 games heading into the 2007 World Series before being swept in four games by the Boston Red Sox.

Resiliency might be the best word to describe the 2007 Colorado Rockies. The club overcame an 18-27 start to the season, a 1-9 road trip at the end of June and the loss of three starting pitchers. The Rockies went from last place in the National League West to posting the league's best record after May 22 with a mark of 72-46 (.610), including a franchise-record 20 victories in September. The team finished at 17 games above .500, easily a franchise-best for any point in any season. The club's 90 wins matched Arizona for the most victories of any National League team in '07. 2007 became the first 90-win season in Rockies franchise history.

The sensational 21-of-22 run began on Sept. 16. Entering that day's game, the Rockies found themselves four-and-a-half games behind Wild Card leader San Diego, and they trailed both Philadelphia and Los Angeles by 3.0 games each. Colorado was also in the midst of a three-game losing streak, but the Rockies avoided a sweep, hitting four home runs (one of which was Todd Helton's 300th career home run) and collecting 20 hits to defeat the Marlins 13-0.

Following an off day, the Rockies hosted the Dodgers for four games, beginning with a doubleheader on Sept. 18. Colorado won game one by a 3-1 count as Jeff Francis struck out a career-best 10 batters, the most by a Rockies pitcher since 2003. In the nightcap, Helton hit one of the most memorable home runs in franchise history: a 418-foot two-run walk-off home run off Takashi Saito to give the Rockies a 9-8 victory and completing the doubleheader sweep. The win pushed Colorado to seven games above .500 for just the second time in '07. The Rockies defeated the Dodgers 6-5 in the third game of the set, as Brad Hawpe hit a two-run home run in the eighth inning, and the following day, Matt Holliday highlighted a six-run second inning with his 11th home run in 12 games in the Rockies' 9-4 win.

The club then traveled to Southern California for a six-game trip against San Diego and Los Angeles. In the first game of a three-game series with the Padres, the Rockies led 1-0 entering the ninth inning, but that lead vanished as Manny Corpas allowed a solo home run to Adrian González to lead off the frame. However, Brad Hawpe's home run in the 14th inning gave the Rockies a 2-1 victory, securing the club's first winning season since 2000. The Rockies went on to sweep San Diego, highlighted by a franchise-best 17th win of the season for starter Jeff Francis. The sweep notched the Rockies' 84th win of the year, setting the single-season team record.

The Rockies then traveled up the coast to play the Dodgers in three night games. In the opener, on Sept. 25, Troy Tulowitzki homered in the sixth inning to drive in the tying and go-ahead runs while Helton recorded a pair of run-scoring singles to give the Rockies their ninth consecutive victory, tying a franchise record. The following night, Josh Fogg held the Dodgers scoreless, allowing just five hits over 6.2 innings and the Rockies scored two runs in the third inning in their 2-0 shutout victory against Los Angeles. In the final road game of the season, Colorado extended its winning streak to 11 games with a 10-4 win in L.A. on Sept. 27. The club had reeled off a perfect 6-0 road trip, the first unbeaten, multi-city trip in franchise history.

Now it came down to the final weekend of the regular season as Colorado hosted first-place Arizona for three games at Coors Field. The Rockies and NL East co-leaders Philadelphia and New York all sat 1.0 game behind NL Wild Card leader San Diego (Colorado also trailed Arizona by 2.0 games in the division).

In front of 48,190 fans, the Rockies' 11-game winning streak was quickly snapped by Arizona as staff ace Brandon Webb held the Rockies to just two runs in seven innings and dealt the Rockies' and Jeff Francis a 4-2 Rockies loss. The Rockies now had to win its two remaining games and hope for the Padres to lose against the Brewers in their last two games to have a shot at the postseason by guaranteeing a tiebreaker game between the clubs to be held at Coors Field.

With their playoff hopes hanging in the balance, the Rockies' resiliency came into play. First, on Sept. 29, Tulowitzki hit his first career grand slam, Holliday drove in two runs with a double, and Garrett Atkins plated two runs as the Rockies defeated the D-backs 11-1. Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, the Padres were one strike away from a victory that would have ended Colorado's season, but closer Trevor Hoffman allowed a game-tying triple to Tony Gwynn Jr., and the Padres fell to the Brewers in extra innings. Colorado's playoffs hopes were still alive. The Rockies headed into the final day of the season needing a win and a Padres loss to force a tie in the NL Wild Card standings.

On the season's final day, the Rockies scored three times against NL West Champion Arizona in the eighth inning, snapping a 1-1 tie, just as the Padres' final score was posted on the Coors Field out-of-town scoreboard to the roaring applause of 46,375 Rockies fans. Ahead 4-1 going into the ninth inning, the Rockies' Corpas entered the game with a chance to close out the victory and extend the Rockies' season. Corpas gave up a couple hits, a Conor Jackson sacrifice fly and a two-out RBI single from Alberto Callaspo, before fielding Stephen Drew's infield grounder and firing it to first, where Todd Helton caught it and erupted in jubilation.

The Rockies had won 13 of their last 14 games to force the Wild Card tiebreaker on Oct. 1: Rockies vs. Padres at Coors Field. It marked the seventh one-game playoff in Major League history.

In the tiebreaker, Colorado took its first lead of the game in the sixth inning, battling back from a 5-3 deficit heading into the third inning. With the Rockies leading 6-5 with two outs in the eighth inning, Holliday's miscue in left field allowed the Padres to score the tying run, pushing the game into extra innings. It stayed knotted at six until San Diego broke the tie with a Scott Hairston two-run home run off Jorge Julio in the 13th inning. With an 8-6 lead, the Padres called on Trevor Hoffman to try and seal a victory for San Diego.

Backs against the wall and their season on the line, Kazuo Matsui led off the bottom half of the frame with a double and immediately scored on Tulowitki's two-bagger to bring the Rockies within a run. Holliday followed with a first-pitch triple, scoring Tulowitzki to tie the game at eight. The Padres chose to intentionally walk Helton in order to face Jamey Carroll with Holliday and the winning run on third. Carroll hit the first pitch he saw from Hoffman to right field, where Giles caught the ball and threw home to try and cut down Holliday. Holliday tagged from third and, diving head first into home plate, narrowly beat Giles' throw to win the game, 9-8 in 13 innings.

The Rockies were going to the postseason in dramatic fashion, and for just the second time in franchise history.

The Rockies would go on to sweep the Philadelphia Phillies in the NL Division Series in three games, and then sweep the Arizona Diamondbacks in the NLCS in four games, capping the 21-of-22 run and becoming National League Champions. Despite losing the World Series title to the Boston Red Sox, this 2007 Rockies season was certainly a magical run for the ages.
